Quality

from generation to generation

Whether your customers are professionals or do-it-yourself enthusiasts, your sole care is to deliver quality. That certainly goes for the tools they are working with. Because quality makes them work in a more pleasant and more efficient way. For over 150 years, Polet has been developing tools for the professional market as well as for the do-it-yourself sector. Over the years, advanced specialization and innovation have been the basic philosophy of Polet. This results in some very complete product ranges supported by highly effective commercial and logistics staff.

BELGIAN MADE TOOLS WITH EUROPEAN DIMENSIONS

Polet is a Belgian company and has been exporting its quality products to many countries since decades. It is therefore not astounding that foreign gardening professionals and enthusiasts regard Polet as their partner for heavy work.

COMPLETE PRODUCT RANGES FOR GUARANTEED COMMERCIAL SUCCESS

Not everyone will use a tool in the same way or is willing to invest the same amount of money. This is why Polet has adapted its complete range to the real market needs. The Polet tools are distributed essentially by specialized construction material outlets and garden centers. These receive a large commercial and logistic support.

FROM MODEST SMITHY TO AN INDUSTRIAL COMPANY

More than 150 years ago, Polet forged his first shovel blades. The modest smithy has grown to become an industrial company, in which quality and innovation are both the keys to a commercial and well-balanced enterprise. Polet products are manufactured according to the international quality standards.

They undergo the strictest testing before and after production. The innovative manufacturing process provides a higher yield, which leads in turn to competitive prices on an international level. At Polet, product development is not a vain word. It means a permanent research for customer benefits. The revolutionary glass fiber handles for example have a ten times longer life span than the traditional handles. All sectors are using Polet: the “green” gardening world as well as construction and industrial companies.

The quality of Polet leads to increased efficiency everywhere. Professionals and do-it-yourself enthusiasts highly appreciate this.

Polet takes over traditional Smederij Denolf

Polet Quality Products, Flemish market leaders in garden tools, take an important step towards sharing a location with sister company De Pypere by moving their manufacturing, warehouse and offices from Borsbeke to Ardoois.

The Icarus Invest group has been involved in the garden and construction tool market since 1999, when they acquired garden tool manufacturing firm De Pypere from Ardoois. In 2015 the same holding company also acquired Polet. With this takeover, both companies clearly demonstrated their ambition to continue manufacturing products of high quality in Belgium.

Through the years, we have built up a powerful, professional sales team and an efficient warehouse with an excellent service level. This also makes us an ideal partner for various strong brands, for whom we act as distributors.

Move to Ardoois

Together, these factors made the move to a shared site an inevitability. We chose Ardoois, where De Pypere is already located, as is Metafox, another group company.

Our two brands' manufacturing processes have now been combined. The new warehouse and offices are already in use and there will be a nice new showroom as well. By combining our knowledge and resources, both brands' manufacturing and distribution processes will benefit and we can ensure a prosperous future on Belgian soil.

WARRANTY

All Polet tools are guaranteed against manufacturing defects, in normal use for which they are intended. Notwithstanding that the quality of the products is closely monitored, there can be an exceptional problem.

A FEW EXAMPLES OF WARRANTY:

- a piece of the steel part of the tool breaks
- the socket of a spade tears or the rivet comes loose
- the handle breaks across (bad wood)
- loosening of a glued fiberglass handle

WHAT IS NOT COVERED UNDER WARRANTY:

- tools that have clearly been used extensively for a long time
- bent tools
- sledgehammers and splitting mauls where the handle has obvious traces of miss hitting
- clear misuse of the tool: a spade may not be used as a lever, a bent spade or a handle that bursts in the longitudinal direction is a clear proof of misuse.

There are fixed standards and descriptions for the settlement of the warranty. These can be found on our website at <https://www.polet.be/en/customer-service/guarantee>. In the case of a private or professional end user (B2C), always return to the point of sale where the tool was purchased. In the case of a reseller (B2B), always return to the factory - contact your representative or the back office at info@polet.be for appropriate handling. Only then can we decide whether you are entitled to a replacement or credit.

RETURN REGULATION

Tools that must be returned in case of warranty or as an error in the order or delivery must be accompanied by a return slip. Badly damaged returned goods can only be partially compensated. Always contact your representative first to discuss the return arrangement. If you are an end user, we recommend that you always contact your point of sale first.

The whole range of garden tools from Polet Traditional is made from high-grade steel. Each tool is forged and hardened in our own production according to craftsmanship with Belgian know-how.

Before they end up in the shop, the tools are sharpened individually so that there is always an extremely sharp cut to the garden tools.

ARTISAN PROCESS

Due to the traditional process of forging, the spades are suitable for the toughest tasks, both cable work and the transplanting of trees and shrubs.

SKILLS AND CRAFTSMANSHIP GIVE NEW LIFE TO OLD TOOLS AT POLET

Polet is a Belgian tool manufacturer with a passion for craftsmanship. Polet designs quality bespoke tools based on deep-rooted knowledge and expertise. In this way, the company supports professional workers' performance of manual tasks for a range of industries. Where other tool manufacturers have opted for mass production only, Polet takes a different approach. Much of its production process is carried out by hand, making every tool a unique object. This remarkable company even makes tools that are specific to a certain region and have become otherwise impossible to find.

Thierry Vanwinkel is a sales representative for Polet in France and is happy to go into more detail about the company's deeply rooted, Belgian expertise.

TAILORMADE CUSTOM TOOLS

The production of the Polet Traditional series is done in a different way than in the case of mass production. Each tool is forged by hand, so there are no two identical spades, shovels or hoes.

In addition to the authenticity and optimal quality, customers can therefore also request personalized tools. For example, an extra sharp edge or a different shape can be obtained in consultation with the company.

DISCOVER OUR RANGE
POLET CLICK-PRO

The Polet Click-PRO concept combines the quality of Polet Traditional hand-forged tools with the ease of use of a click system.

These innovative tools are handmade right here in our production facility in Ardoois. A nice Made in Belgium story, in other words. Our range of click tools offers a solution for every challenge in the garden. And includes hoes, hoes, cultivators, lawn edge and weed whacker, joint scrapers, leaf rakes and brooms. With 1 handle, you can combine many tools. This saves a lot of space in your garage, shed or garden house.

The concept has its own logo and packaging style. This attracts attention on the shop shelves and informs the customer at the same time. You can easily find Click-PRO products in the catalogue via the logo.

The tools easily click in or out of the handle thanks to the handy slider. But they remain firmly in place during use. To click the tool into the handle, slide the knob backwards, push the tool into the handle to the end and then let the knob slide back forwards.

We have a number of handle types available in different lengths. So you always have the right handle to match the tool, as well as the right length to work ergonomically.

- popular with the ecological gardener
- it aerates the soil without disturbing the underground microbiological balance
- ergonomic
- easy
- efficient
- it does not change the soil structure
- does not damage the roots
- it makes the soil loose and airy

HOW DOES A BROADFORK WORK?

- 1) Insert the broadfork's teeth into the ground and push them deeper with your foot.
- 2) Move one step backwards and pull the arm or tube towards you until it is in an angle of 60 to 45 degrees.
- 3) If necessary, move the broadfork from left to right. This is not necessary with the double broadfork.
- 4) Move 1 step backwards again and now also pull the broadfork backwards and repeat from step 1.

PUSH-PULL HOE WITH HILT HANDLE

While Belgians like to tackle weeds in the garden with a draw hoe, the Dutch have always preferred a push-pull hoe. A hoe allows you to weed with a push-pull motion, which has several benefits. A number of male and female Flemish organic farmers have extensively tested this push-pull hoe. They used it for weeding, to bring up weeds from the subsoil, to prepare the soil and hoeing in between herbs. They share their experiences below:

“ KAREL

It took some getting used to, but after a while, it feels completely natural to use. The push-pull hoe is very comfortable to hold and I feel that it makes removing weeds easier. I also feel that I have to make less of an effort, even in rocky or hard subsoil. I would never trade in my push-pull hoe again for a draw hoe.

TANJA “

Unlike when I use a draw hoe, my arms and back don't hurt when I use the push-pull hoe. The longer handle means I have to make less of an effort. You can even use it with just one hand! Very user-friendly and ergonomic.

“ WILLEM

The main thing that I like about this push-pull hoe is that it doesn't break up the soil too much. You can also use it to easily remove excess grass and weeds. But this push-pull hoe works equally well for cabbages and other larger crops. A draw hoe digs deeper and requires you to pull, whereas this hoe lets you push and pull. I also like the handle and the longer pole.

SEED ROW PULLER 5 TEETH ADJUSTABLE
W/HA 150CM

Art. No. 3801051 | Pack.: 1 | Handle: 143662

SEED ROW PULLER

- fast and efficient
- adjustable teeth: row distance of your choice
- up to 5 sowing/planting rows in one move
- max. 67 cm wide

Manual seed row puller for pulling seed or planting rows in the vegetable garden. With 5 adjustable teeth and ash handle. Efficiently draw 2/3/5 seed rows side by side, in parallel straight rows, in one movement and with the same intermediate position.

Because the rows are at an equal distance from each other, there is more space between the plants, which promotes growth and facilitates weeding and harvesting. When seeding on rows (or lines), one can also save on seed. Ideal for vegetables such as peas, onions, beans, beetroot, carrots,...

GARDEN ROLLER 52CM
Ø33CM

Art. No. 070707 | Pack.: 1

- presses the soil evenly and gives rain no chance of subsidence
- pressed soil promotes rising groundwater, so that newly sprouted seeds are protected against dehydration
- use the roller to break open the upper layer crust for the newly sprouted seed

FILLABLE WITH WATER OR SAND

- Water = ideal for light soil
e.g. sandy soil
- Sand = ideal for heavier soil
e.g. clay or clay soil

SPADE HANDLES

- ash: the veins run straight, over the entire length of the handle
- beech wood: recognizable by the dark spots on the wood
- varnished: makes the handle smoother, which gives a more pleasant feeling and stops the moisture from rain or sweat, so that your handle lasts longer
- lengths between 70 and 115 centimetres
- diameter: Ø 36 mm, Ø 37 mm, Ø 38 mm, Ø 41 mm and Ø 44 mm
- handle: T-handle, D-handle or rounded

RAKE AND BROOM HANDLES

- lengths between 120 to 170 centimetres
- diameter: Ø 24 mm or Ø 28 mm
- straight-grained, smoothly sanded wood of A-quality, tropical hardwood or ash wood

AXES AND HAMMER HANDLES

- pay attention (always, but certainly with axes and hammers) to the correct diameter and sharpening of the handle
- ash wood and Hickory (even harder than ash, very suitable for the heavier work)

SHOVEL AND FLAT RIM SHOVEL HANDLES

- ash wood: good firmness and a certain flexibility
- beech wood: more susceptible to moisture, with warping result
- curved handle: the shovel is nicely balanced and limits the necessary force when shovelling
- lengths between 95 and 130 centimetres
- diameter: Ø 41 mm

FORK HANDLES

- handle: T-handle, D-handle or rounded
- with or without ferrule
- lengths between 85 and 135 centimetres
- diameter: Ø 36 mm, Ø 39 mm and Ø 41mm

HAY FORK HANDLES

- with or without ferrule
- lengths between 135 and 165 centimetres
- diameter: Ø 36 mm

FIBER HANDLES

- fiber 3001: 3x stronger than wood
- fiber 5001: 5x stronger than wood
- fiber 9001: 10x stronger than wood

GOOD TOOLS NEED MAINTENANCE

MAINTENANCE

Moisture in soil can lead to rust. That is why it's vital that you clean your tools with a rag or a steel brush after use and store them in a dry place. Before winter hits, you should take some time to give your tools some love and care.

Perhaps the edges need sharpening. You can use a soft file or a whetstone for this. An angled grinder with a sanding disc works even better. Make sure not to heat the edge, because this will reduce the steel's hardness. You can grease your tools with oil, or spray them with a silicone spray.

A PRACTICAL TIP

Fill a large bucket or container with a mixture of sand and biodegradable (chain) oil. After each use, you should dip your tools in it a few times. This cleans the dirt off the tools and greases them.

Don't forget the shaft of your tools. Treat the shaft with some linseed oil, rubbed in with a rag, a few times a year. This protects the wood and the shaft will feel softer as a result.

TIPS

Which tools do we definitely need, what are good tools and what should we pay attention to when purchasing and maintaining them?
